In the heart of Paris, 10 minutes' walk from the Champs-Élysées, a hidden artistic treasure is now open for the first time to the public: the cabinet of curiosities of the Hôtel Salomon de Rothschild, bequeathed to the French state. In a magnificent, 18th-century-style Parisian town house, discover the rare objects gathered starting in the 19th century by the baron Salomon de Rothschild and his wife, baroness Adèle de Rothschild. Escorted by a professional guide, you will discover over the course of one hour and a half the beauty of artworks by Delacroix or Rodin, the astonishing Chinese jades, the precious weapons, tapestry and stained-glass windows. More than a simple tour, this experience will immerse you in the world of 19th-century Parisian socialites, from its artistic salons to its wonderful collections.
